DETAILED ACTION

This Office Action is in response to a Pre-Amendment filed October 10, 2000.

Drawings

The drawings are objected to as failing to comply with 37 CFR 1.84(p)(4) because reference character "105" has been used to designate both SiN film (Page 6, last paragraph) and anodic oxide (Page 7). Correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

Claims 10-21 and 34-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Konuma et al. (US Patent No. 5736434).

Konuma discloses an internal layer of aluminum (Col. 2, lines 44+), and substrate 701, wherein said aluminum containing film pattern contains carbon atoms at a concentration of a trace.

Regarding the limitations "A TV camera", "TV camera parts", "A personal computer", "personal computer parts", "a car navigation system", "car navigation parts", "A TV projection system", "TV projection system parts", "A video camera", and "video camera parts", these limitations do not further distinguish the claims from that which is disclosed by Konuma et al.

Furthermore, it is inherent that the device of Konuma cannot be used alone, but in electronic/electric devices. Therefore, reciting an intended use for the claimed device is not considered a structural limitation and has no patentable weight.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 10-21 and 34-39 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1,4,6,7,9,10,12,14,21,22-25,28,30-32,34,36,37-39 and 41-43 of U.S. Patent No. 6100562. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because Aluminum is a metal, and the claimed range of carbon concentration falls within the already patented range.

Claims 10-21 and 34-39 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being obvious over Yamazaki et al. (US 6100562).

The applied reference has a common inventor/assignee with the instant application. Based upon the earlier effective U.S. filing date of the reference, it constitutes prior art under 35 U.S.C. 102(e). This rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) might be overcome by: (1) a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the reference was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not an invention "by another"; (2) a showing of a date of invention for the claimed subject matter of the application which corresponds to subject matter disclosed but not claimed in the reference, prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the reference under 37 CFR 1.131; or (3) an oath or declaration under 37 CFR 1.130 stating that the application and reference are currently owned by the same party and that the inventor named in the application is the prior inventor under 35 U.S.C. 104, together with a terminal disclaimer in accordance with 37 CFR 1.321(c). For applications filed on or after November 29, 1999, this rejection might also be overcome by showing that the subject matter of the reference and the claimed invention were, at the time the invention was made, owned by the same person or subject to an obligation of assignment to the same person. See MPEP § 706.02(I)(1) and § 706.02(I)(2). It would be obvious to incorporate aluminum into the semiconductor film, as aluminum is widely used and common among semiconductor artisans for its conductive properties. The use of aluminum would therefore be obvious to one with ordinary skills in the art for it is widely used in the art and common as explained above.
